Therapeutic Communities - Contents

- Addiction theory - Zinberg
- AA and TCs - separated at birth
- The circle and the triangle
- Right living
- TCs don't work because...
- TCs and the “new recovery movement”

Drug, Set and Setting

Drug, Set and Setting - what are the major elements?

- Drug - biological predisposition, genetic transference, tolerance
- Set - self esteem, self-belief, resilience
- Setting - deprivation, acceptance, access
- Wilkinson - co-terminous maps of deprivation

Drug, Set and Setting - what should treatment achieve?

- Treatment works where it is given the chance to work
- Drug - reduce or eliminate drug use
- Set - improve self-esteem and encourage resilience
- Setting - encourage changed environments, communities, activities etc.

TC and AA - Separated at birth

- Story-telling for recovery
- The power of peer support
- Correcting the story
- Adjusting the intensity
- Templates for right living

The circle & the triangle

Recovery and “Right Living”

- Deal with the Drug and Set first
- Kenakuk & Handsome Lake – suddenly you can be free
- The Washingtonians – putting food upon the table
- Alcoholics Anonymous - the dry drunk
- Chuck Dederich (Synanon) – right living
- Black Power Movement – black and proud

TCs – they don't work because... ?

- Addicts don't want them
- People don't get better
- Addiction treatment needs “professional” involvement
- They cost too much
- Hardly anyone completes the programme
- The real world is not like this
- Recovery is dangerous

TCs and the New Recovery Movement

- A natural affinity
- A dissatisfaction with “the way things are”
- 1970 - 2010
- The extra-treatment movement
- A belief in self-help
- A belief in change - in something better

TCs – An Evidence Base?

- Don't be ashamed of belief
- All research starts with a belief/ curiosity
- Research is the systematic testing of belief
- Some will believe that in a certain set of circumstances, the worst will happen
- Some will believe that in a certain set of circumstances anything is possible
- Ask yourself which belief you would prefer
- Evidence-based practice or practice-based evidence?
